

With up to 20 million monthly users, wetter.com is one of the most popular consumer weather services in Germany, Austria and Switzerland. More than 70 people at our locations in Munich, Berlin and Constance work on our products with plenty of passion and fun. Our team consists, among others, of meteorologists, editors, developers, technicians, designers, sales managers and data professionals. In addition to our weather products for web, mobile apps, and TV, wetter.com also offers weather data-driven business solutions that help companies optimize processes and leverage new business potential. We are a 100% subsidiary of ProSiebenSat.1 Media SE.

To strengthen our Backend Team, at Constance or Berlin, we are looking at earliest convenience for:

Senior Backend Developer (m/w/d)

Your Role

- As a backend developer you support the further development, modernization and optimization of our backends and services
- You design and develop new services and APIs in an agile team
- You support the development of our web and mobile applications with high-performance and scalable solutions
- You accompany the entire development process from conception to deployment and monitoring

Your Profile

- You have a degree in Computer Science or equivalent qualification.
- You have several years of experience in development with node.js and ideally PHP
- You are well-versed in RESTful API design, test-driven development and clean code
- You are very familiar with working with Elasticsearch, MongoDB, Redis, PostgreSQL
- Experience with Docker, messaging systems, CI/CD and AWS complete your skill set
- You like to share knowledge, but you are also always open to new ideas and approaches
- Ideally you speak German and English

Your Benefits

- An own area of responsibility with space to develop your own ideas and concepts
- Our corporate culture is characterized by team spirit, open communication and dynamic atmosphere, flat hierarchies and short decision-making paths
- We work in a hybrid model with home office and office presence
- Uncomplicated co-operation: We have a flat You culture with no Mr or Mrs and are detached from dress codes
- A variety of perks, social benefits and employee services in a leading Media Company
- Promotion and training-on-the job is very important to us

Looking forward to a conversation with your new colleagues? Then apply at jobs@wetter.com